

Document Your Insights

What ways of connecting with my romantic partners no longer serves my current needs?

What changes are necessary to help me grow these relationships in my desired direction?

Document Your Insights

What am I now inspired to transform or create anew with or in relation to my romantic partners?

What continues to bring me joy about how I'm currently working with my romantic partners?

Document Your Insights

What gift was I presented with by my infinitely wise creator to help me cultivate aligned romantic partners?

What wisdom was I given about how to care for and receive from this gift in the most beneficial way?

Document Your Insights

Is there anything else I would like to remember from today's journey as I chart my course forward in pleasurable co-creation?